
Sean Iacobone

Chief Product Officer, Pillar Technologies

Sean is a co-founder of Pillar and now serves as Chief Product Officer. Sean's primary focus at Pillar is to guide the development of seamless tools and solutions that will enable the industry to act proactively, prevent losses, and enhance quality. Since launching Pillar, Sean has led the development of a real-time solution changing the way contractors are protecting their projects.

Prior to founding Pillar, Sean founded a company using sensor technology to detect and diagnose concussions where he led product development, implementation, and client engagement.
